Appendix II:
Appalachian State University
Academic Standing (Probation and Suspension Policy)

To continue at Appalachian in good academic standing, undergraduate students must earn, as a minimum, the following cumulative grade-point averages (GPAs) during the periods indicated:

Minimum Cumulative GPA

At the completion of 1 to 15 attempted hours:	1.75
At the completion of 16 to 30 attempted hours:	1.90
At the completion of 31 attempted hours, and thereafter:	2.00

The term “attempted hours” is defined as all coursework taken while enrolled at Appalachian State University at the undergraduate level--i.e., all courses passed, all courses failed, and all repeats of courses. “Attempted hours” also includes all coursework categorized as “transfer” - i.e., coursework transferred from other collegiate institutions, “AP” and “CLEP” credit from the College Entrance Examination Board, “International Baccalaureate” credit, institutional placement credit, credit awarded for military experience, and institutional “Credit for Life Experience.”

Failure to earn the minimum grade-point averages indicated above will automatically place the student on academic probation during the fall or spring semester that follows. (Note: The cumulative grade-point average earned at Appalachian is computed ONLY on the basis of coursework taken at Appalachian; i.e., grades earned on coursework taken at other collegiate institutions or by correspondence are not computed in or allowed to affect the grade-point average at Appalachian, and therefore not used to determine academic standing.)

While on academic probation, however, a student will, within the limits prescribed below, be allowed to continue:

1. An undergraduate, whether admitted as a freshman, a transfer, or a special (non-degree seeking) student, will be allowed to enroll for a maximum of two (2) fall or spring semesters while on academic probation.
2. The Dean of the student’s college or school, or the Director of University College Advising, may choose to attach specific requirements while the student is enrolled on academic probation. These requirements may include, but are not limited to, special advising sessions, a limitation on the number of credit hours taken, a requirement that certain courses be repeated, enrollment in developmental courses, etc.

If the student uses the two semesters of academic probation mentioned above, but fails to earn a cumulative grade-point average sufficient to place her or him in good academic standing, the student will then be academically suspended. At that point, the student’s only recourse is to enroll during the University’s summer terms until such time that the cumulative grade-point average places her or him in good academic standing. (Since grades earned and hours attempted during the summer are calculated in the student’s academic status, it should be remembered that the grades earned and hours attempted during the summer may not only return the student to good academic standing, they may also place or continue the student in academic difficulty. A summer term does not, however, count as one of the two semesters allowed while on academic probation. Undergraduate students in academic difficulty - whether on probation or suspension - may always attend Appalachian during the summer.)

The University has academic “Forgiveness Policies” (described under the Office of Admissions section of this catalog) which allow an undergraduate student to re-apply for admission even though she or he has been academically suspended. Understand, however, that these policies have both minimum waiting periods and academic stipulations which must be met before the student is allowed to re-enroll in an academic term other than the summer.)
